encountered words
you didn't know (or maybe never even

Whether you have seven days or seven months to prepare for the test, you're going
to want to boost
your vocabulary.
But it's not that simple - you've got

Get Free Free Gre Word List

to remember the words you learn. And on many GRE text completion and sentence equivalence questions, getting the right answer comes down to knowing the precise definition of the words. You could make vocabulary

Get Free Free Gre Word List

flashcards. You could look up words you don't know. You could read a book with lots of big words. But unless you give your brain a way to hold on to the words you learn, it will probably have a harder time remembering them when they appear on the test. That's the problem with most vocabulary books: the definitions and sentences in the books aren't especially memorable. That's where this book is different. We've not only clearly defined the words but we've also created sentences designed to help you remember the words through a variety of associations - using mnemonics.

Mnemonic

Examples A

mnemonic is just a memory device. It works by creating a link in your brain to something else, so that recall of one thing helps recall of the other. This can be done in many ways - but the strongest links are through senses, emotions, rhymes, and patterns.

Consider this example: Quash (verb): to completely stop from happening.

Get Free Free Gre Word List

Think: squash. The best way to quash an invasion of ants in your kitchen is simple: squash them. Now your brain has a link from the word quash (which it may not have known) to the word squash (which it probably knows). Both words sound and look the same, so it's easy to create a visual and aural link. If you picture someone squashing ants (and maybe get grossed out), you also have another visual link and an emotional link. Here's another example: Eschew (verb): to avoid.

Get Free Free Gre Word List

Get Free Free Gre Word List

Think: ah-choo!

Eschew people who
say "ah-choo!"

unless you want to catch their colds.

The word eschew
sounds similar to a
sneeze (ah-choo!),
so your brain will
now link the two sounds. If you
picture yourself
avoiding someone who is about to
