So without further ado, here's how to optimize your decision-making process in seven simple steps. Step 1: Identify the decision. Before you do anything, you need to work out exactly what it is you're trying to solve. Why do you need to make a decision in the first place? What changed either within or outside of the organization?

In EWO, decision-making problems are formulated as optimization problems, which are solved to identify the optimal decision. According to rational decision theory, decision-making problems are defined by: i) a list of alternative decisions, ii) a description of each alternative, iii) a decision-making criterion (Simon, 1947). The formulation of decision-making problems as optimization problems requires
